

INSULATION LABS RECOGNIZED FOR INNOVATION AMONG ELITE OWENS CORNING® CERTIFIED ENERGY EXPERT® PROFESSIONALS

Family-owned Insulation Labs earns Owens Corning® Innovation Award for leveraging AI to improve efficiency, collaboration, and customer service.

VAN NUYS, CA, UNITED STATES, May 26, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Owens Corning has announced that locally owned and operated Insulation Labs is the 2026 Certified Energy Expert® Innovation Award Winner. The Insulation Labs team accepted the esteemed award at the Owens Corning® Certified Energy Expert® (CEE) National Meeting at The Hilton Beachfront Resort and Spa in Hilton Head Island, South Carolina.

Insulation Labs Accepts the 2026 Owens Corning® Certified Energy Expert® Innovation Award

The Innovation Award recognizes a CEE member company that has increased their engagement level in the CEE Program by utilizing innovative ways to collaborate and serve customers. Specifically, Insulation Labs has leveraged artificial intelligence (AI) to transform how they operate, collaborate, and deliver value across their business.

“Through responsible and intentional use of AI, Insulation Labs has elevated operational efficiency, strengthened communication, and unlocked new ways of working that position them for sustainable growth. Their commitment to innovation not only advances their own organization, but also sets a powerful example for what's possible across the CEE community,” said Stephanie Tolbert, Certified Energy Expert® program leader.

This exclusive recognition underscores Insulation Labs’ exceptional industry leadership. With a commitment to excellence, Insulation Labs does what it takes to make sure each employee has the training and experience needed to deliver superior workmanship, safety, and service on the job. Homeowners and builders alike can be assured that Insulation Labs' professionals have the skills and experience to deliver comprehensive energy-saving solutions.
