You need an aggressive trial firm that can match that corporate power from day one”

Bill Karns

The Logistics Crisis on California Freeways
California’s highways serve as the primary shipping veins for the nation, resulting in a severe escalation of commercial vehicle collisions. Crashes involving massive 18-wheelers, semi-trucks, and rapid "last-mile" corporate delivery vans require an immediate, highly sophisticated legal response that standard passenger car accident models cannot support.

"When a multi-ton commercial truck causes a catastrophic crash on a California freeway, the corporate owner’s insurance company dispatches a rapid-response team to the scene within hours," said Bill Karns, founding partner. "Their sole job is to control the narrative, alter electronic data, and limit their financial exposure. A victim cannot protect their family by hiring a high-volume settlement mill. You need an aggressive trial firm that can match that corporate power from day one."

The California Trend: Advertising Operations vs. Courtroom Trial Lawyers

As legal advertising saturates California cities, Karns & Karns advises injury victims to carefully evaluate who will actually be standing next to them when a case gets difficult.

"California is flooded with billboard lawyers, but a billboard has never won a verdict inside a courtroom," said Mike Karns, founding partner. "Many of the largest advertising operations function purely as marketing engines. They collect a high volume of cases, look for the quickest, easiest settlement, or quietly pass the file to an outside firm when a trial becomes inevitable. At Karns & Karns, we handle our litigation in-house. Insurance carriers know exactly which attorneys actually step in front of a jury, and that courtroom readiness is what forces them to pay top dollar."

Immediate Evidence Preservation and Federal Compliance Analysis

The specialized commercial accident division at Karns & Karns moves instantly to secure critical evidence required to hold multi-billion dollar shipping operations accountable. The firm's investigators immediately file emergency demands to preserve:

Electronic Logging Device (ELD) Data: Tracking driver hours to prove fatigue and federal hours-of-service violations.

Commercial Vehicle "Black Box" Event Data Recorders: Proving speed, braking patterns, and mechanical failures at the moment of impact.

Internal Corporate Maintenance Records: Uncovering negligent vehicle upkeep, brake failures, and improper cargo loading.

The Karns & Karns No-Fee Guarantee

Karns & Karns operates on a strict No-Fee Guarantee, ensuring that families facing the massive financial and emotional strain of a catastrophic truck crash can secure elite legal representation
