

Life.Church Switch Invites Listeners to 'Hunger' for Jesus in New Single

OKLAHOMA CITY, OK, UNITED STATES,

June 3, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Known for their hit single, "Symphony," Life.Church Switch has released a new single, "Hunger" (Life.Church), now available on all streaming platforms. This first release from the group's upcoming album, Simple, introduces a bold new sound for Life.Church Switch, one that pulls listeners in before the first word is even sung.

This song is for anyone who knows what it's like to feel a void in your heart and have Jesus fill it until it's overflowing.”

Maggie Burton, Life.Church Switch

"We wanted to create a song that felt fresh, upbeat, and dynamic while being able to reach the hearts of listeners in a way we've never done before," said Life.Church Switch member Maggie Burton, who sings lead vocal on the song. "The song is raw and honest about knowing where you've been and now feeling like you just can't get enough of Jesus."

An alternative pop track with progressive beats, "Hunger" is written from the perspective of someone reflecting on their spiritual journey. It begins with a look back at what life looked like before they knew Jesus, and then celebrates their renewed desire to know more of Him.

At the center of "Hunger" is a challenge that doubles as an invitation, which asks, "Anybody gonna match my hunger?" The call is to pursue God with everything, rooted in the belief that He will meet us right where we are.

"This song is for anyone who knows what it's like to feel a void in your heart and have Jesus fill it until it's overflowing," said Burton. "Once you experience that, there's nothing else like it. You just want more of Him."

"Hunger" is the first of two singles to drop, leading up to the August release of Life.Church Switch's latest full-length album, Simple.
