Attorney Jeffrey Phillips

The article, published at <https://attorneyatlawmagazine.com/stories/attorney-feature/jeffrey-phillips-and-nasser-abujbarah>, offers an in-depth look at how Phillips and Abujbarah have shaped the firm's identity over more than three decades. From the firm's founding principles to its current position as a statewide leader in personal injury representation, the feature explores what drives the team's commitment to injured Arizonans.

Jeffrey Phillips, who founded the firm in 1993, reflects on the values that have guided the practice from its earliest days. His approach centers on treating every client with dignity and fighting aggressively for fair compensation — regardless of the complexity of the case. Under his leadership, Phillips Law Group has grown from a small practice into a firm that has recovered more than $2 billion on behalf of clients and served more than 185,000 Arizonans.

Nasser Abujbarah, who serves as managing attorney, discusses the operational and cultural evolution of the firm, including its investment in attorney development, community outreach, and client communication. Abujbarah was recently named the 2026 Medium-Size Business Leader of the Year at the Champions of Change Awards hosted by AZ Big Media — a recognition that reflects the firm's broader impact beyond the courtroom.
