

THE STAR FUND® ADVANCES HOLISTIC PROJECT AND PRODUCT SUPPORT

Shootings, stabbings, fires, car collisions- firefighters often witness traumatic events while answering public calls for help.

BEE CAVE , TX, UNITED STATES, June 9, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Firefighters see raw tragedy while helping us. But who is helping them?

Courage is being scared to death but saddling up anyway”

□□For years, the culture within many fire departments was one of silence when it came to the topic of mental health. Shootings, stabbings, fires, car collisions- firefighters often witness traumatic events while answering public calls for help. The Star Fund® has set its sights to answer these calls in times of need.

Times are changing. Dealing with chaotic events in the past was simply to just keep it bottled up and "tough it out." A kind of Old West mentality. More often than not, outcomes incurred have included suicidal thoughts, divorce, and addictions which make their way into the lives of those who incur trauma, that are not dealt with successfully.

Recently a 16-year veteran firefighter jumped off a freeway overpass - getting fatally struck by a big rig. A 20-year veteran witnessed six deaths involving children, some under the age of three.

Not long after that, he had his first panic attack. Much more help is needed, so firefighters and family members don't feel like they're carrying the burden alone.

A significant portion of firefighters have been diagnosed with or will experience some form of mental illness, with the rate of specific diagnoses like PTSD being twice as high as the general population.

By receiving contributions from high net worth corporations, family trusts, and individuals, The Star Fund® works to properly fund innovative solutions to market.

The Star Fund® has just launched its Love for Humanity Award. Nominations are now officially open, and are made by you, the public. To nominate a person or a business for the Award, simply go to The Star Fund® Contact Page and complete the contact information form, with a detailed message of who you would like to nominate, along with a detailed description of why you feel your nomination deserves the award.

The Love for Humanity Award recognizes, and pays tribute to both individuals and organizations who have made and are making a major mark in support of these efforts, honoring our military veterans and responder heroes. Whether bringing about a discovery in neuroscience, exemplifying extraordinary bravery and or sacrifice, or a lifetime achievement in this space - the Love for Humanity Award by The Star Fund® recognizes those who have made an incredible and everlasting mark.

The Award is also a dedication and celebration of the history of some of the best-known and most influential human beings, while also inspiring future generations. Ten Awardees, honoring the highest achievements in these pursuits, will be announced and receive their Awards this coming labor day, September 7, 2026.
