

KND Labs President Nicholas Wilson Elected to National Animal Supplement Council Board of Directors

KND Labs underscores commitment to quality-driven growth across animal wellness sector

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, June 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- KND Labs, a leading manufacturer and partner to the pet wellness industry, is pleased to announce that Nicholas Wilson, KND Labs' president, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the National Animal Supplement Council (NASC).

The election comes during a time when KND Labs has evolved to provide not only cannabinoid-based source material and processing services, but also expertise in non-hemp-derived manufacturing for a variety of brands and sectors.

manufacturing, and consumer confidence within the animal health and supplement industries. Wilson's election reflects his longstanding involvement with NASC, as well as KND Labs' continued commitment to quality-driven growth across the animal wellness sector.

“I'm honored and grateful for the NASC community's ongoing support,” Wilson said. “NASC has played an important role in helping shape a more responsible, transparent, and quality-focused industry for pet supplements, which aligns directly with our objectives at KND Labs. Over the years, I've developed tremendous creates industrywide. I look forward to contributing my experience and support to the organization's mission and continued growth for years to come."

KND Labs provides NASC-compliant cannabinoid ingredients and pet product manufacturing tailored to regulatory, formulation, and retail needs. The company was honored as NASC Supplier of the Year in both 2022 and 2023, and has built a reputation for manufacturing excellence, regulatory leadership, and collaborative partnerships across the pet and animal wellness industry.

Wilson's board election comes in tandem with KND Labs building on its roots as a CBD product leader to grow its contract manufacturing and product development capabilities — including for a wide array of pet and human wellness suppliers — with a new focus on non-hemp-derived materials.

"The animal health and pet wellness category continues to evolve rapidly, and organizations like NASC play a critical role in protecting the industry's integrity," said Courtlandt Pennell, KND Labs Vice President of Sales – Specialty Animal & Pet at KND Labs. "Nich Wilson has always believed that quality, compliance, transparency, and long-term partnership matter first. His election to the Board is a reflection of the trust he has built throughout the industry, and our entire team is excited to support NASC and its mission moving forward."

KND Labs began as a CBD extraction company and has evolved to provide advanced formulation, liquid manufacturing, powder blending, bottling, encapsulation, gummy manufacturing, and co-packing services for brands across many industries including functional wellness, pet health, dietary supplements, sports nutrition, and specialty ingredients.

While KND Labs maintains deep expertise in hemp-derived ingredients and cannabinoid systems, today the majority of the company's contract manufacturing business is focused on traditional non-hemp dietary supplements and functional wellness products, with a core focus of supporting small and mid-market brands.

About KND Labs

KND Labs is a Colorado-based contract manufacturer specializing in formulation, ingredient manufacturing, liquid systems, powder blending, co-packing, and finished goods production across animal wellness, dietary supplements, nutraceuticals, functional ingredients, and specialty wellness categories. Originally founded as a CBD extraction business, KND Labs has evolved into a diversified manufacturing platform supporting both emerging and established brands with high-quality, compliance-driven production solutions. Today, the majority of KND Labs' manufacturing activities are centered around traditional non-hemp dietary supplements and functional wellness products across both human and animal health categories, with a particular focus on supporting small and mid-market brands seeking lower MOQs, faster development timelines, and scalable manufacturing solutions.
