

Gaslight Ghost Stories and Victorian Murders Podcast Now Live on Spotify

Writer/Producer Nancy Fulton Releases new Gaslight Ghost Stories and Victorian Murders Podcast.

HOLLYWOOD, CA, UNITED STATES, June 9, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NO BETTER FRIEND ENTERTAINMENT LLC announces the launch of Gaslight Ghost Stories and Victorian Murders, a new weekly podcast featuring English ghost stories from 1800–1900 alongside true crime stories from the United Kingdom during the same period. The podcast is now live on Spotify at: <https://open.spotify.com/show/033qugBf5R9cl2SeHf0Pd6>

Created for listeners who love gothic fiction, classic ghost stories, haunted houses, historical mysteries, Victorian murder cases, and atmospheric true crime, Gaslight Ghost Stories and Victorian Murders explores an era when gaslit streets, isolated manor houses, crowded cities, rigid social rules, and hidden crimes created some of the most enduring stories of fear, justice, grief, and revenge.

Podcasts are the new home for pulp fiction, and they reach the entire world just seconds after they are published.”

Nancy Fulton

Each episode presents either a ghost story from the nineteenth century or a true crime story drawn from the same historical world. New episodes will be published weekly.

Author Andreyia Stuart, who has written several pieces for the podcast, says, “Ghost stories have the strange property of being about misery, misfortune, horror, and loss, while also being about the survival of the soul and the ability of the dead to protect those they love and punish people who have hurt them. They are impossible not to love.”

Producer Nancy Fulton says the new podcast builds on the company’s success with audio fiction and serialized storytelling.

“Our Dark Romance Novels and Stories podcast has had well over 1,000,000 downloads,” says Fulton. “It is very popular on Spotify, iTunes, Google Podcasts, YouTube, and even Amazon. Podcasts are the new home for pulp fiction, and they reach the entire world just seconds after they are published. They are beloved for good reason by creators and their audiences.”
