

Simple Moving Company Expands Stress-Free, All-Inclusive Moving Services Across Los Angeles for the 2026 Peak Season

As summer relocations surge, Simple Moving Company expands all-inclusive moving services across Los Angeles with transparent pricing and trained crews.

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, June 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As summer brings the busiest stretch of the relocation calendar, Simple Moving Company has expanded its stress-free, all-inclusive moving services across the greater Los Angeles area. The move positions the company to meet rising demand from families and businesses and reinforces its standing among the most dependable local movers in Los Angeles heading into the 2026 peak season.

Each year, the late spring and summer months drive a sharp increase in moves across Southern California as leases turn over, families relocate before the school year, and businesses reorganize their space. That surge often leaves customers scrambling for available crews and facing surprise charges from providers stretched thin. Simple Moving Company built its expanded capacity specifically to address those pressures, adding scheduling flexibility and crew availability so customers can book the date they want without compromising on quality.

The expansion centers on the company's all-inclusive pricing model, which bundles services that other movers commonly charge for separately. Every standard move includes the free use of blankets, moving pads, wardrobe boxes, shrink wrap, tape, dollies, tools, and straps, along with free assembly and reassembly, basic insurance, and protective packing for furniture, electronics, mirrors, and fragile items. Local moves are billed at transparent hourly rates with a defined minimum, and long-distance relocations are quoted at flat rates, so customers know the full cost before the truck is loaded.

"Peak season is when people feel the most pressure, and that is exactly when transparency matters most," a company spokesperson said. "We wanted to make sure that when demand goes up, our standards do not come down. Customers get the same clear pricing, the same trained crews, and the same all-inclusive service whether they book in January or in the middle of July."

As an established Los Angeles moving company, the team handles local moves, long-distance relocations, and office and commercial projects with the same attention to logistics. Crews work across the region every day and understand the conditions that define moving in the area, including heavy traffic, tight parking restrictions, high-rise building access, and hillside neighborhoods that require careful planning. That experience allows the company to anticipate obstacles and protect belongings at every stage, even during the busiest weeks of the year. The expanded service also supports the full range of customer needs that tend to spike in summer. Beyond standard household relocations, Simple Moving Company offers packing and unpacking, senior moving support, labor-only options for customers using their own truck, pod, or container, and last-minute moves subject to availability. Specialty handling for pianos, gym equipment, and other heavy or delicate items is available as well, all delivered by fully licensed and insured crews.

The company provides residential moving services in Los Angeles along with coverage across Orange County and the San Fernando Valley, giving customers a single, reliable point of contact regardless of where their move begins or ends. Round-the-clock booking means requests can be submitted online or by phone at any hour, and free, no-deposit quotes allow customers to plan ahead without financial commitment. Plans can be changed at any time with zero cancellation fees, a policy designed to remove the risk that often comes with booking early during a busy season.

Simple Moving Company plans to maintain the expanded capacity through the remainder of the peak season and to continue investing in crew training and fleet quality to support long-term growth. Customers preparing for a summer move can request a free quote online or by phone to reserve a crew and truck.
