Too many women care deeply but aren't equipped to respond in critical moments—this is about building confidence and connection” proud to present the 3rd Annual Wellness in Me Conference: See. Support. Connect., taking place on Saturday, June 27, 2026, at The Den Event Hall in Fort Washington, Maryland. This one-day experience is designed to equip women—especially Black women and women of color—with the tools, knowledge, and confidence needed to support mental and emotional wellness within their communities.

At a time when many women are silently navigating stress, overwhelm, and mental health challenges, this conference creates space for honest conversation, education, and connection. The Wellness in Me Conference is more than an event—it is a call to action to strengthen how women care for themselves and one another. This year marks the official launch of the See. Support. Connect. \(SSC\) Model, a culturally grounded, sisterhood-centered approach that equips everyday women—not just professionals—with practical tools to recognize mental health needs, respond with compassion, and build meaningful support systems.

The conference experience will guide participants through three core pillars:

SEE — Awareness & Understanding: recognizing mental health conditions, warning signs, and addressing stigma

SUPPORT — Skills & Response: learning how to listen without judgment, offer reassurance, and respond appropriately in moments of distress

CONNECT — Community & Sisterhood: building safe spaces, fostering meaningful conversations, and strengthening collective care through shared experiences

Attendees will hear from a dynamic lineup of speakers and mental health professionals who will offer both expertise and practical, real-life applications. Sessions will focus on empowering women with actionable strategies they can use in their families, workplaces, ministries, and communities. In addition to educational sessions, the conference will provide opportunities for reflection, grounding, and connection, creating a supportive environment where women feel seen, heard, and valued. "We created this conference because too many women care deeply for others but have not been equipped with the tools to respond when someone is struggling," said Lyona Blake, CEO and President of HER Cause, Inc. "This experience is about moving beyond awareness into action—so that women leave knowing how to show up for themselves and each other with clarity and confidence."

The Wellness in Me Conference is intentionally designed as an intimate experience to foster deeper engagement, meaningful dialogue, and authentic connection among participants.

Registration is now open. Women interested in attending are encouraged to secure their spot and be part of this impactful experience.

The graphic is a promotional poster for the 'WELLNESS IN Me' Women's Mental Health and Wellness Conference. At the top, it states the date and time: 'SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 2026 | 8:00 AM - 4:00 PM' and the location: 'THE DEN EVENT HALL | 9400 LIVINGSTON ROAD, SUITE 102, FORT WASHINGTON, MD 20744'. The title 'WELLNESS IN Me' is prominently displayed, with 'Me' in a large, cursive font. Below the title, it says 'WOMEN'S MENTAL HEALTH AND WELLNESS CONFERENCE'. A central text block invites attendees to join for the conference and launch the 'See, Support, Connect. (SSC) training program—designed to help you bring mental wellness education directly to your community! Secure your spot with General Admission or select VIP for priority access and an enhanced conference experience.' To the right of this text is a circular portrait of Dr. Tyreese McAllister, labeled as the 'Keynote Speaker'. Below this, a 'SPEAKERS' section features three circular portraits: Dr. Kelechi Mack (Awareness & Understanding), Chivonne Gabriel (Skills & Response), and Sheareged Phillips (Community & Sisterhood). A 'DISCUSSION PANEL: FROM AWARENESS TO ACTION' section follows, with four circular portraits: Erika Hancey, MSW, LCSW; Dr. Camille Adams Jones; Waki Johnson, Soul Wealth; and Michela Johnson, Certified Parent Coach. At the bottom, a registration link is provided: 'Register for the full weekend experience at hercause.org/conference', accompanied by a QR code.

Attendees gather for the Wellness in Me Conference, a powerful experience focused on mental health, connection, and community for women.
