Building a permanent headquarters here in Petaluma is a long-term investment in our employees, our customers and the communities we serve throughout Sonoma County and the North Bay.”

Founded in 2014 by Jeremy Lee Martin, JLM Painting has grown into one of the most recognized painting companies in Petaluma, employing 29 painters and operating 8 to 10 active painting jobsites weekly across Sonoma County, Marin County and Napa County. The company also launched sister company JLM Construction Services in 2024 to provide drywall repair and dry rot repair services alongside its professional painting operations.

The newly purchased Petaluma headquarters will become the first owner-occupied facility for JLM Painting and JLM Construction Services. The property is currently under construction and is expected to become operational within six to eight months. The facility will include offices, equipment storage, material staging areas, fleet parking and operational space designed specifically for the company's residential and commercial painting crews.

"This is the first building we've owned that's actually designed around how our painting crews work every day," said Jeremy Lee Martin, founder of JLM Painting. "We've operated out of leased facilities since 2014. Building a permanent headquarters here in Petaluma is a long-term investment in our employees, our customers and the communities we serve throughout Sonoma County and the North Bay." JLM Painting was recently named 2025 Best Painter in Petaluma, recognizing the company's reputation for professional craftsmanship, long-term crew retention and consistent project quality. Of the company's 29 painters, 15 have remained with JLM Painting for between eight and 10 years after joining through the company's in-house apprentice training system.

Martin brings more than 25 years of professional painting industry experience to the company. Prior to launching JLM Painting, he spent 10 years as a manufacturer's representative for Kelly Moore Paints before transitioning into commercial estimating for a Marin County painting contractor handling large-scale Northern California projects.

"This recognition belongs to our painters and production crews as much as it belongs to the company," Martin said. "A customer hiring JLM Painting for exterior house painting in Petaluma today receives the same level of craftsmanship and professionalism as someone who hired us back in 2014. That consistency comes from investing in our crews and training people the right way."

JLM Painting provides a full range of residential painting and commercial painting services throughout Petaluma, Sonoma and Marin County communities, including interior house painting, exterior house painting, commercial painting services, multifamily and apartment repainting, HOA and property management repainting, waterproof coatings, epoxy concrete floor coatings, architectural coatings, drywall repair and dry rot repair.

The company's residential painting projects are generated primarily through referrals, repeat customers and neighborhood visibility from active jobsites throughout Petaluma and Sonoma County. Commercial and multifamily painting work comes primarily from property managers, developers and commercial building operators across Marin County, Napa County and the greater North Bay region. Recent projects completed by JLM Painting include Western Oaks, a 350-unit multifamily apartment community repaint project in Northern California. The company completed two phases of the large-scale multifamily painting project in 2025 and is scheduled to begin the third phase in June 2026.

In addition to residential and commercial painting services, JLM Painting has maintained an active presence in local community projects throughout Petaluma for more than seven years. In June 2026, JLM Painting crews are scheduled to donate a complete repaint of the Boys & Girls Club of Petaluma pool area as part of the company's ongoing local community involvement efforts. JLM Painting has also supported Petaluma Valley Little League, Petaluma Girls Softball Association (PGSA) and multiple youth sports and community-building programs throughout Sonoma County since 2019.

local families and kids here in Petaluma," Martin said. "We believe being a local painting contractor means more than just operating a business. It means contributing to the communities where our crews live and work." Unlike many large franchise painting companies and out-of-area contractors, Martin personally visits every active JLM Painting jobsite. Every residential, commercial and multifamily painting project completed by JLM Painting includes a one-year workmanship warranty.

"We plan to keep serving Petaluma, Sonoma County and the North Bay for decades to come," Martin said. "Buying a permanent headquarters, training long-term crews and continuing to invest in local projects all come back to the same philosophy: show up, do quality work and build relationships that last."
