

James Moore Announces DAPORA for Manufacturing

GAINESVILLE, FL, UNITED STATES, June 10, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- James Moore & Company is proud to formally announce DAPORA for Manufacturing, the firm's platform to provide better data visibility and insights for manufacturing companies.

Developed by the firm's James Moore Digital division, DAPORA for Manufacturing gives manufacturers real-time operational visibility. It brings together data from multiple sources and presents it in clear, intuitive dashboards to allow for smarter, more insightful decision-making.

The platform is especially robust when used in conjunction with James Moore's manufacturing fractional CFO services, which provide the financial insight and strategic guidance to turn decisions into measurable business results.

DAPORA for Manufacturing helps companies understand what's happening on the production floor in real time.”

Mike Sibley

“Manufacturers perform best when operational data and financial strategy work together,” said Mike Sibley, CPA, partner and leader of James Moore's Manufacturing Services Team. “DAPORA for Manufacturing helps companies understand what's happening on the production floor in real time, while our fractional CFO services help translate that information into stronger cash flow, improved profitability and long-term growth.”
