

'Is AI Coming for Everyone's Job?' New Data Shows the Threat is Real – And Most Workers Aren't Ready

New Platform Gives Workers a Personalized, Step-by-Step 12-Month AI Career Defense Plan – Before It's Too Late

SOUTHFIELD, MI, UNITED STATES, June 16, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With 37% of business leaders now anticipating replacing human workers with AI by the end of 2026, and the World Economic Forum warning that 92 million workers could be displaced by 2030, the threat of AI job displacement is no longer a distant concern – it is happening right now. Yet most workers have no clear plan for what to do about it.

That changes today. Oxford Hill Partners has launched www.AICareerDefense.com, the first platform to deliver fully personalized, 12-Month AI Career Defense Plans tailored to an individual's profession, career stage, and biggest concern – giving workers a clear, actionable roadmap for how to survive AI automation and stay relevant in the AI job market.

"Everyone is reading about AI and how they should learn it, but nobody is telling them exactly what to do, where to start, or how to protect their career step by step," said Yosi Heber, President of Oxford Hill Partners and creator of AI Career Defense. "We built this because people don't just need awareness – they need a plan. We hold their hand through every step of it."

www.AICareerDefense.com fills that gap with precision. The platform covers 15 professions currently most exposed to AI disruption, offering workers in each field a concrete strategy for
