

Sugar Land Movers Share Tips for a Stress-Free Summer Move

All Seasons Movers & Storage, Sugar Land's family-owned mover since 1986, shares practical advice for navigating the year's busiest moving season.

SUGAR LAND, TX, UNITED STATES, June 11, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SUGAR LAND, Texas - Summer is the busiest time of year for moving companies across the country, and Sugar Land is no exception. With school years wrapping up, lease renewals kicking in, and corporate relocations clustered between June and August, local crews book up weeks in advance. All Seasons Movers & Storage, the movers Sugar Land TX families have relied on since 1986, is sharing practical guidance to help residents plan ahead and avoid the most common peak-season mistakes.

Summer catches people off guard every single year.

They wait until two weeks out and find their date is gone. Lock in early - the less pressure everyone is under, the better move day goes.”

Sunny Dulai

Demand between May and August routinely outpaces supply at moving companies across the Houston metro. Families who delay booking often find their preferred date unavailable or discover that available crews are stretched thin - outcomes that turn an already stressful day into a real ordeal.

"Summer catches people off guard every single year," said Sunny Dulai, Owner of All Seasons Movers & Storage. "They wait until two weeks out and then find out their date is gone. The earlier you lock in, the better your options are - and the less pressure everyone is under on move day."

BOOK 3-4 WEEKS OUT, MINIMUM

The company recommends booking at least three to four weeks ahead for any summer move, and as early as possible for weekend dates. Saturday and Sunday slots in June, July, and August are the first to go, followed closely by the last and first days of each month, when lease turnovers spike. For families that need to be settled before the new school year starts in August, the effective window is even tighter.

UNDERSTAND WHAT YOU ARE BOOKING

Not all moving quotes are the same. A credible moving company Sugar Land residents can trust should provide a detailed, itemized estimate before any commitment is made - not a rough figure over the phone that grows on move day. Families should ask whether the quote is hourly or flat-rate, what is and is not included, and whether the company carries full cargo and liability insurance.

All Seasons Movers & Storage is licensed with the Texas Department of Motor Vehicles and carries comprehensive coverage on every job. The company offers transparent, no-hidden-fee pricing confirmed in writing before move day.

"We have heard from people who got a low quote from another company and were handed a bill twice the size at the end," said Dulai. "That is not how we operate. What we quote is what you pay - full stop."

PLAN FOR TEXAS HEAT

Sugar Land summers regularly push past 95 degrees. That affects more than the crew - it affects belongings. Electronics, candles, wood furniture, vinyl records, and temperature-sensitive items can sustain real damage sitting in a hot truck or staging area.

The company recommends a few heat-specific precautions: transport temperature-sensitive electronics and valuables in a climate-controlled vehicle whenever possible, and for anything going through storage, choose a climate-controlled facility rather than a standard unit. Humidity along the Gulf Coast is particularly hard on wood, fabric, and metal - even over short storage periods.

All Seasons Movers & Storage operates secure, climate-controlled storage in Sugar Land for customers whose move-out and move-in dates do not align - a common situation during peak season when closings and lease turnovers rarely sync up cleanly.

KNOW YOUR BUILDING'S REQUIREMENTS

Sugar Land's master-planned communities, apartment complexes, and HOA-governed neighborhoods each carry their own moving logistics. Many buildings require advance notice for elevator reservations, dedicated parking, and a Certificate of Insurance naming the property as an additional insured. Missing those requirements can mean a delayed start - or a fine.

The company handles COI requests as part of its standard process and has navigated access requirements across virtually every major building and community in the area.

"We have moved people in and out of every neighborhood in this city," said Dulai. "First Colony, Telfair, Riverstone, Sweetwater - we know the rules. We know which buildings need what and when. That local knowledge saves our customers real headaches on move day."

PACK BEFORE THE CREW ARRIVES

One of the most consistent causes of extended move times is customers who are not fully packed when the crew shows up. Every unpacked box adds time to an hourly job, and in peak summer heat, a slow load is a more grueling one for everyone.

All Seasons Movers & Storage offers professional packing and unpacking services for customers who want help with all or part of the job. Crews arrive with quality materials and four decades of experience packing Sugar Land homes. For customers handling packing themselves, the company recommends finishing at least the day before the move, labeling boxes by destination room, and keeping a personal essentials bag accessible throughout the transition.
