Dana Logsdon Roofing & Solar is an Owens Corning Platinum Preferred Contractor, a certification held by fewer than 1 percent of roofing companies nationwide. The designation allows the company to offer some of the longest material and workmanship warranties available in the industry, including a 50-year limited lifetime warranty covering labor and materials on qualifying roof systems.

After three decades serving San Diego, our focus has stayed the same: do the job right the first time and leave every property cleaner than we found it.”

Riley Logsdon

The company has earned more than 1,500 five-star reviews from San Diego homeowners, with customers consistently citing transparent pricing, daily site cleanup, and in-house installation crews as reasons for choosing the firm. Most residential roofing projects are completed within one to four days.

"After three decades serving San Diego, our focus has stayed the same: do the job right the first time and leave every property cleaner than we found it," said a company spokesperson for Dana Logsdon Roofing & Solar. "Reaching 30,000 homes served is not just a number to us. It represents thousands of San Diego families who trusted us with the most important part of their home."

In addition to roofing and solar, Dana Logsdon Roofing & Solar has expanded its home services lineup to include home hardening for wildfire-prone areas, gutter installations, skylights and tubular skylights, whole house fans, attic insulation, and JellyFish permanent exterior lighting. Home hardening services have become increasingly relevant for Southern California homeowners seeking to protect properties against wildfire risk and qualify for improved insurance terms.
