AWARD-WINNING ARTIST MICHELLE LARSEN BRINGS IMMERSIVE 3D SCULPTED PAINTINGS TO NEW BUFFALO THIS SUMMER

"The Art SHOW at the 19th Hole" transforms traditional painting into a bold dimensional experience July 10–19

NEW BUFFALO, Mich. — This July, award-winning artist Michelle Larsen invites visitors to step beyond the traditional canvas and experience art in a whole new dimension.

From July 10–19, Larsen will present The Art SHOW at the 19th Hole, a limited-engagement exhibition featuring her acclaimed 3D paper sculpted paintings at The 19th Hole at Woodlands Course at Whittaker in New Buffalo, Michigan.

Known for her innovative process that merges painting and sculpture, Larsen creates dimensional artworks that extend up to six inches from the canvas surface, transforming flat imagery into immersive visual experiences. The exhibition will feature a diverse collection of nature-inspired works, expressive portraits, wildlife subjects, and abstract compositions that invite viewers to explore every angle.

"This work is designed to be experienced, not simply viewed," said Larsen. "I want people to step into a world where painting rises beyond the canvas and becomes something tangible, dimensional, and alive."

Set against the backdrop of one of Southwest Michigan's premier summer destinations, visitors
