Attendees were also invited to guided tours of the newly developed townhome communities Villa L'Onz and Villas of Solana in Riviera Beach.

“

Housing is the foundation of a strong community, and through the First Horizon Foundation's support of the Housing Fair, alongside our nonprofit partners, we're helping connect people to resources.”

Debra Vasilopoulos, Market President/EVP, First Horizon

“Villa L'Onz reaching 50% sold this early in the construction process is a tremendous milestone. This further demonstrates the support and anticipation surrounding this beautiful community in the heart of the city's major redevelopment, just moments from the Intracoastal.” - Annetta Jenkins, RBCRA

Attendees were able to:

- Tour new development homes with guided walkthroughs
- Meet with onsite lending specialists for financing guidance

- Connect with local housing experts and community leaders

- Access resources on homeownership, rental assistance, and neighborhood programs
- Learn about Riviera Beach initiatives and what the community has to offer

The 8th annual Renaissance Riviera Beach Housing Fair was made possible through the generous support of community sponsors, including the City of Riviera Beach, Riviera Beach CRA, Wells Fargo, Legal Aid Society of PBC, CIBC, South Florida Regional Planning Council, Smith CPAs & Associates, PNC Bank, First Horizon and Southeast Florida Community Development Fund. Their commitment to housing access and community investment helps ensure this event remains free and open to all.

“Housing is the foundation of a strong community, and through the First Horizon Foundation's support of Riviera Beach Renaissance Housing Fair, alongside our nonprofit partners, we're helping connect people to resources and opportunities that keep this important work moving forward.” - Debra Vasilopoulos, Market President/EVP, First Horizon
