expansion across the Western United States, announcing its debut in Utah and Idaho through its partnership with Admiral Beverage and its network of distribution partners.

“This growth is a direct result of strong partnerships, exceptional retail support, and consumers who continue to embrace our products,” said Kyle Hollenbeck, co-founder of AZ Lemonade Stand. “We're incredibly grateful to Admiral Beverage and its distribution partners for helping introduce our brand to new communities throughout the region.”

As part of the expansion, AZ Lemonade Stand is fulfilling and shipping more than 23,000 cases of lemonade by the end of June, representing 342,000 individual bottles and jars with a total retail value exceeding $2 million.

Beginning in June, consumers throughout Utah and Idaho can now find AZ Lemonade Stand products in stores throughout both states. The premium lemonade will be available at Harmons Grocery in Utah and Broulim's Fresh Foods in Idaho.

The Utah and Idaho expansion builds on a period of unprecedented momentum for the Arizona-based beverage company. Earlier this year, AZ Lemonade Stand and its sister company, AZ Candy Stand, partnered with Admiral Beverage and its member distributors to launch in Montana, where consumer response has exceeded expectations.

The company's expansion efforts are producing record-breaking results. AZ Lemonade Stand has already sold more truckloads in 2026 than it sold during all of 2025 and remains on pace to more than double its case sales this year.

“Our partnership with Admiral Beverage has been incredible,” Hollenbeck added. “It’s rare to find a distributor that genuinely wants to help build your brand. Their team has opened doors, created opportunities, and played a major role in accelerating our growth throughout the West.”

Known for its bold flavors and premium quality, AZ Lemonade Stand beverages are enjoyed both as refreshing ready-to-drink lemonades and as versatile cocktail and mocktail mixers. Each batch is gently pasteurized and hot-filled into premium glass mason jars designed to preserve freshness and flavor while delivering a nostalgic, elevated customer experience.
