emerging biomaterials company developing advanced platforms for wound care and wellness applications, today announced that it has executed a definitive Manufacturing and Supply Agreement (MSA) with The Pure Source, LLC, an FDA-registered contract manufacturer headquartered in Doral, Florida. The MSA establishes the terms for long-term, commercial-scale manufacturing of Aethl Bio's proprietary products and formalizes the relationship the two organizations set out under their April 2026 Memorandum of Understanding (MOU).

The agreement marks a substantive step forward in Aethl Bio's commercial roadmap, advancing the collaboration from a preliminary framework to a durable, long-term manufacturing relationship. The MSA pairs Aethl Bio's proprietary formulations and product vision with the Pure Source's cGMP-certified, FDA-registered manufacturing infrastructure, quality systems, and operational depth, establishing the production foundation Aethl Bio will rely on as it scales toward commercialization.

“Executing a definitive agreement with a manufacturing partner that operates within an FDA-registered, cGMP-certified facility gives us a robust operational foundation and de-risks our path to market,” said Carmelo R. Montalvo, Chief Executive Officer of Aethl Bio. “This is the partnership we set out to build, and it positions Aethl to continue to move with speed and confidence as we scale. Pure Source is committed to building with us, and we're excited about how our partnership will help advance Aethl's mission of helping people heal deeply and live fully.”

"This agreement codifies the quality systems, specifications, and manufacturing controls we need to produce at commercial scale," said Dan Willis, Chief Technology Officer of Aethl Bio. "Pure Source has demonstrated the technical capability and the willingness to build to our requirements, and that gives us confidence in the foundation we're putting in place."

Pure Source echoed the enthusiasm surrounding the agreement.

"We're proud to formalize our partnership with Aethl Bio and to support the company as it advances toward commercialization," said Mark Kempin, VP of Sales at Pure Source. "We believe strongly in both the product vision and the broader category opportunity it represents, and we're committed to building a durable, high quality manufacturing relationship."

"At Pure Source, we have built a robust cGMP manufacturing environment designed to help emerging brands scale efficiently and confidently. We look forward to providing the quality, regulatory support, and manufacturing expertise needed to help bring Aethl Bio's vision to market," said Joel Meyerson, President of Pure Source.

Under the agreement, Aethl Bio retains full ownership of its intellectual property, formulations, and product specifications. The MSA is supported by companion agreements governing quality and supply, codifying a long-term partnership as Aethl Bio prepares for its next phase of growth and commercialization.
