

Furman Graduate Helps Build Local Garage Door Company Serving Greenville and the Upstate

Furman graduate Evan Danyo helps build Garage Doors Today Greenville, a family owned garage door company serving the Upstate.

GREENVILLE, SC, UNITED STATES, June 22, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Garage Doors Today Greenville is sharing the local founder story behind its growing garage door repair, maintenance, and installation company serving Greenville and the surrounding Upstate South Carolina area. Co-founded by Evan Danyo, a Furman University graduate, Garage Doors Today Greenville was built around a simple mission: provide honest, reliable, and straightforward garage door service for homeowners, builders, property managers, and businesses across the Upstate.

The story of Evan Danyo Garage Doors Today Greenville is rooted in local service, family ownership, and a desire to build a company that customers can trust. As a Furman graduate business owner Greenville SC residents can connect with, Danyo is focused on growing a business that serves the same region where he went to school and continues to build relationships.

Upstate,” said Evan Danyo, co-founder of Garage Doors Today Greenville. “We are not trying to be a company that just passes through town. We want to build something local that people can trust.”

As the Garage Doors Today Greenville founder, Danyo has helped shape the company around clear communication, dependable service, and honest recommendations. His background at Furman helped influence the way he looks at business, customer service, local relationships, and long-term growth.

Garage Doors Today Greenville is also a family owned garage door company Upstate SC customers can rely on for residential and commercial garage door needs. The company works with homeowners dealing with broken springs, loud or shaking doors, snapped cables, worn rollers, opener problems, off-track doors, damaged bottom seals, safety sensor issues, and replacement garage doors.

For Danyo, the company is about more than repairing garage doors. It is about building a local reputation one customer at a time and creating a service experience that feels simple, honest, and professional.

“A garage door issue can be stressful because it affects your home, your schedule, and sometimes even your ability to get your car out of the garage,” said Danyo. “Our goal is to make the process easier by communicating clearly, showing up professionally, and giving honest recommendations.”

As a young entrepreneur Greenville SC customers and local business leaders can watch grow, Danyo is focused on building Garage Doors Today Greenville with a long-term mindset. The company's goal is not only to complete service calls, but to become a trusted name for garage door repair, installation, and maintenance throughout the Upstate.

Garage Doors Today Greenville was created to serve a wide range of local garage door needs. Homeowners may call for urgent repairs when a spring breaks or a door will not open. Builders may need garage doors installed for new construction projects. Property managers may need dependable service for rental homes, apartment garages, or commercial properties. Businesses may need overhead doors repaired to keep operations moving.

The company also helps homeowners compare new garage door options for curb appeal, insulation, and long-term function. Garage Doors Today Greenville offers access to garage door options from trusted manufacturers and suppliers, including Amarr, C.H.I. Overhead Doors, DoorLink, Haas Door, and Wayne Dalton. These suppliers provide a variety of residential and commercial garage door styles, including raised-panel doors, carriage-style doors, modern doors, insulated steel doors, non-insulated doors, plank-style doors, and doors with window options.

As Garage Doors Today Greenville continues to grow, the company remains focused on being a local garage door company that customers can easily reach, understand, and trust. The business emphasizes reliable communication, quality workmanship, practical recommendations, and a service experience built around the customer's needs.

"We want people in Greenville and the Upstate to know who they are calling," said Danyo. "We are local, we care about the work, and we want our customers to feel confident that they are getting a fair and honest recommendation."

Garage Doors Today Greenville serves Greenville, Greer, Simpsonville, Mauldin, Easley, Taylors, Travelers Rest, Fountain Inn, Spartanburg, Anderson, Clemson, Powdersville, Piedmont, Inman, and surrounding Upstate South Carolina communities.

The company continues to build relationships with homeowners, builders, property managers, and businesses throughout the region. For Garage Doors Today Greenville, local growth means continuing to serve the community with the same values the company was founded on: honesty, reliability, communication, family ownership, and quality work.
