

IronCrest Painting Announces Rebrand From Leo's Painting Solutions for Refined Painting Services in Denver

IronCrest Painting, formerly known as Leo's Painting has completed a company rebrand while continuing to provide painting services in Denver, Colorado.

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, June 17, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IronCrest Painting, formerly

While our name changes, our mission doesn't. As a local Hispanic-owned painting company in Denver, our mission is to honor every client with integrity, craftsmanship, and work that stands out."

Elder Barrera Reyes

known as Leo's Painting Solutions, has completed a company rebrand while continuing to provide interior house painting, exterior house painting, commercial painting, and cabinet painting services throughout Denver and the surrounding metro area.

IronCrest Painting has officially announced its rebrand from Leo's Painting Solutions, marking the next chapter for the Denver-based painting company. The business continues to serve homeowners and businesses throughout Denver, Lakewood, Littleton, Wheat Ridge, and Cherry Creek with the same painting services, local team, and commitment to clean, professional work.

The company is based at 5 S Zenobia St, Denver, CO 80219, and can be reached at (720) 602-2837. Customers can learn more about the updated company name, service details, and project process by visiting the official website at <https://ironcrestpaintingco.com/>.

The rebrand was created to give the business a stronger and clearer identity as it continues serving the Denver metro area. While the name has changed, the company's focus remains the same: providing reliable interior painting in Denver, exterior painting in Denver, cabinet painting in Denver, and commercial painting in Denver for property owners who want careful preparation, clean finishes, and clear communication throughout the project.

IronCrest Painting continues to serve residential customers who need interior house painting in Denver, Lakewood, Littleton, Wheat Ridge, and Cherry Creek. Interior painting projects may include bedrooms, living rooms, kitchens, trim, doors, ceilings, and full-home repainting. The company works with homeowners to protect flooring, furniture, and surrounding areas before painting begins so the finished space is clean and ready to use.

The company also provides exterior house painting in Denver, Lakewood, Littleton, Wheat Ridge, and Cherry Creek. Exterior painting in Colorado requires proper surface preparation because homes in the Denver area are exposed to strong sun, dry air, snow, and seasonal temperature changes. IronCrest Painting focuses on preparing siding, trim, fascia, soffits, and other exterior surfaces before applying paint so each project is completed with durability in mind.

For business owners and property managers, IronCrest Painting provides commercial painting in Denver, Lakewood, Littleton, Wheat Ridge, and Cherry Creek. Commercial painting services may include offices, retail spaces, tenant improvements, small business interiors, and exterior repainting for commercial properties. The company works to keep projects organized and reduce disruption while giving businesses a clean and professional finish.

IronCrest Painting also offers cabinet painting in Denver, Lakewood, Littleton, Wheat Ridge, and Cherry Creek for homeowners who want to update kitchens, bathrooms, built-ins, or storage areas without replacing the full cabinetry. Cabinet painting requires detailed prep, careful coating, and a clean finish, making it one of the company's core specialty services.

IronCrest Painting's Google Business Profile is listed under the category "Painter in Denver, Colorado," with related business categories including painting and contractor. The company's Google Business Profile can be viewed at anytime. Customers looking for the Denver location, map listing, or directions can access the Google Maps listing attached.

The updated IronCrest Painting website gives customers a simple way to review services, learn about the company, and request an estimate. The site includes information about residential painting in Denver, commercial painting in Denver, interior painting in Denver, exterior painting in Denver, and cabinet painting in Denver, along with service area information for the Denver metro.

— PAINTING —

Ironcrest Painting, a trusted Denver painting contractor, provides residential and commercial painting services with clean prep, crisp finishes, and lasting craftsmanship.

Customers may still see older references to Leo's Painting Solutions on reviews, directories, or previous project mentions. Those references are connected to the same local painting business now operating as IronCrest Painting. The rebrand helps bring the company's website, Google Business Profile, Google Maps listing, and local business information under one updated name.
