

Network Distribution® Launches Partnership with DevMar Distribution Designed for National Tier 1 Minority Distribution

SCHAUMBURG, IL, UNITED STATES, June 17, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Network Distribution® has entered a partnership with DevMar Distribution, Inc. The partnership enables organizations to achieve Tier 1 minority supplier diversity goals on a national scale while maintaining operational efficiency and product quality.

DevMar was founded by Sharon W. Reynolds, President and CEO, in 2007 with a vision to distribute environmentally friendly products to customers seeking sustainable solutions. The company later achieved WBENC (Women's Business Enterprise National Council) certification and became actively involved in advocacy for women business owners and entrepreneurs. In 2012, it launched a manufacturing capability to produce cleaning products that maintain facility health and safety while reducing environmental footprint.

Together, the companies will market and support customers nationwide, leveraging Network's infrastructure and service capabilities with DevMar's differentiated products and advanced technologies to deliver enhanced value to customers.

Upon signing the agreement, Ms. Reynolds said, "My enthusiasm for becoming part of the Network Distribution family and team cannot be overstated. This is a monumental step toward a strong partnership, and we at DevMar are thrilled to begin this journey."

"We are excited to join forces with DevMar Distribution," said James Timberlake, Chief Commercial Officer at Network. "As a certified small business and domestic manufacturer, DevMar enables customers to recognize qualifying purchases as direct, first-tier minority spend
