ALGems, the elite international haute joaillerie house, has officially unveiled its newest one-of-a-kind fine art creation designed by celebrated luxury artist Anita Mai Tan. Valued at US$1.3 Mil, this groundbreaking masterpiece continues

Tan's historic legacy of fusing museum-grade sculpture, rare precious gemstones, and functional luxury objects.

Anita Mai Tan, the visionary creator behind the globally acclaimed $880,000 Dragon and Spider diamond iPhone cases (<https://www.prestigeonline.com/th/lifestyle/gadgets/most-expensive-iphone-cases-in-the-world/>) and the historic $1 Million Heaven Gold writing instrument (<https://sothebysrealty.ae/the-journal/most-expensive-pen-in-the-world/>), has spent over 900 studio hours hand-sculpting this latest release. True to the brand's design philosophy, the piece serves a dual purpose as an irreplaceable work of fine art and an ultra-exclusive lifestyle asset for elite global collectors.

"Every piece I create is an intimate love letter to humanity, intended to evoke a profound emotional connection and push the boundaries of traditional gem-setting," said Anita Mai Tan, Founder and Chief Designer of ALGems. "True luxury must possess a soul, which is why this masterpiece seamlessly bridges the gap between ancient artisanal craftsmanship and contemporary sculptural art." "The highest form of luxury is not a rare gemstone or a precious object. It is a story that can never be repeated. When a creation captures a person's dreams, heritage, emotions, and life journey, it ceases to be jewelry and becomes legacy. The greatest collectors understand that they are not merely acquiring objects—they are preserving meaning.

And true luxury carries a responsibility beyond beauty: to uplift others, support culture, and transform success into a force for good."
