

In2Trading Launches Ask The Desk, an AI Platform That Turns Stock Questions Into Instant Analysis

New conversational tool lets everyday investors analyze any stock, ETF, crypto, or index by asking a question — instant, data-driven answers in seconds

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, July 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In2Trading LLC today announced the launch of Ask The Desk, an AI-powered financial analysis platform that allows investors to research any stock, ETF, cryptocurrency, or market index by asking questions in plain English and receiving instant, data-driven answers.

Most investors don't need more data — they need faster answers. Ask The Desk lets you type any ticker, ask a question, and get data-driven analysis with charts and current market data in seconds."

William Joseph, Founder, In2Trading LLC

Built for self-directed investors, Ask The Desk addresses a long-standing gap in the market: individual investors have access to more data than ever, but the expertise to interpret it — the analysts, the terminals, the research desks — has remained locked inside institutions. Ask The Desk closes that gap by doing the interpretation itself. Its AI reads the fundamentals, technicals, and valuation data behind any ticker and answers the investor's actual question in plain English, backed by real market data.

"Most investors don't need more data — they need answers. We built Ask The Desk so anyone can ask a real question about a stock and get the kind of analysis that used to require a professional terminal or an analyst on call," said William Joseph, founder of In2Trading LLC. "Our goal is to put institutional-grade research within reach of every investor, in language they can actually use."

Users enter a ticker symbol, ask a question — such as whether a stock is overvalued, how its earnings have trended, or what its technical indicators suggest — and receive a structured analysis covering valuation, fundamentals, technicals, and relevant market context. The platform draws on real financial data to ground every response.

Ask The Desk is available now at desk.in2trading.com. Subscription plans start with a free trial and scale to Pro and Ultimate tiers for investors who require deeper historical data and intraday analysis.

The image shows a screenshot of the 'Ask The Desk' website interface. At the top, the title 'Ask The Desk' is displayed in a large, gold-colored font. Below the title, a subtitle reads 'Ask a question about any stock, ETF, crypto, or index. Get instant answers backed by real market data.' A status bar indicates 'Ultimate Plan — 48 of 60 questions remaining today'. A navigation menu includes 'Enter a Symbol', 'Set Ticker', 'Ask a Question', and 'View Chart'. The main interface features a search bar with the placeholder text 'Enter ticker e.g. AAPL' and a 'SET' button. Below this is a text input field for asking questions, with a placeholder 'Ask a question about this stock...'. A grid of buttons provides quick access to various financial data points: 'Today's Earnings', 'Earnings Calendar', 'Economic Calendar', 'IPO Calendar', 'Sector Performance', 'Insider Trades', 'Congress Trades', 'Top 30', 'Top Losers', and 'Most Active'. A link 'Try Our Most Popular Searches' is located below the grid. At the bottom, a disclaimer states: 'Ask The Desk gives you instant financial analysis on any stock, ETF, crypto, or index — covering earnings, technicals, valuations, news, and interactive charts. Enter a ticker, ask a question, and get data-driven answers powered by real market data. Not a substitute for professional advice.'
