

Honeycomb Paper Market Driven by Rising Demand for Sustainable Packaging and Home Décor Applications

Asia-Pacific dominated the global honeycomb paper market in 2020, accounting for more than two-fifths of the total market revenue.

WILMINGTON, DE, UNITED STATES, June 22, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The global honeycomb paper market is witnessing steady growth, fueled by the increasing adoption of expanded paper honeycomb as an eco-friendly alternative to conventional filling materials such as solid fillings, chipboard strips, and tube boards. Its widespread use in interior doors, partition walls, furniture, and packaging applications is creating new opportunities across multiple industries.

According to a report published by Allied Market Research, titled "Honeycomb Paper Market by Core Type (Expanded Paper Honeycomb, Expanded Paper Honeycomb Blocks, Continuous Paper Honeycomb, Others), Cell Size (Up to 10 mm, 10–30 mm, Above 30 mm), and End-use Industry (Home Décor, Transport & Logistics, Automotive, Building & Construction, Others): Global Opportunity Analysis and Industry Forecast, 2020–2030," the global honeycomb paper market was valued at $6.5 billion in 2020 and is projected to reach $11.0 billion by 2030, growing at a CAGR of 5.4% from 2021 to 2030.

Growing Preference for Sustainable Materials Fuels Market Expansion:

- The market is primarily driven by the increasing use of expanded paper honeycomb as a lightweight, durable, and environmentally friendly substitute for traditional filling materials in construction and furniture manufacturing. Rising demand for sustainable packaging solutions and recyclable materials is further supporting market growth.

- However, the relatively poor processing performance of honeycomb paperboard in certain applications remains a key challenge, limiting its adoption across some end-use industries. Despite this, the growing use of paper honeycomb pallets in air freight due to their lightweight construction, durability, and cost-effectiveness is expected to create lucrative growth opportunities during the forecast period.

10–30 mm Cell Size Segment to Lead Market Growth:

- Based on cell size, the 10–30 mm segment accounted for nearly half of the global market revenue in 2020 and is expected to maintain its dominance through 2030. The segment is also projected to register the fastest CAGR of 5.6% during the forecast period.

- The growth is attributed to rapid urbanization, expanding construction activities, and increasing demand for lightweight core materials used in manufacturing interior doors and other building components.

Home Décor Emerges as the Largest End-use Segment:

- Among end-use industries, the home décor segment held over two-fifths of the global market share in 2020 and is expected to retain its leading position throughout the forecast period. The segment is also anticipated to witness the highest CAGR of 5.8%.

- Growing demand for sustainable furniture, interior doors, cabinets, and decorative products has significantly boosted the adoption of honeycomb paper cores in residential and commercial interiors.

Asia-Pacific Maintains Regional Leadership:

- Asia-Pacific dominated the global honeycomb paper market in 2020, accounting for more than two-fifths of the total market revenue, and is expected to remain the fastest-growing regional market with a CAGR of 6.2% through 2030.

- The region's leadership is driven by rapid urban development, expanding construction and furniture industries, and increasing consumer preference for eco-friendly building materials. Countries across Asia-Pacific continue to witness rising demand for lightweight honeycomb core materials as sustainable alternatives to traditional chipboard strips and tube boards.
