Ramona Walton-Fykes is an accomplished business consultant and state-licensed insurance agent based in Naperville, Illinois. With more than a decade of leadership and management experience, she has built a strong professional foundation in crisis and project management, Agile methodology, and team leadership. Her work is distinguished by a commitment to inclusive excellence, supported by extensive experience in Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DE&I) initiatives aimed at creating meaningful and sustainable organizational impact.

As the Founder of SSS, LLC, Ramona leads and mentors a team of over 20 professionals, guiding the development of strategic presentations, marketing materials, and business reports designed to help clients secure funding and scale their operations. Her leadership approach is rooted in empowerment, collaboration, and delivering practical solutions to complex business challenges.

Ramona's career also reflects a strong dedication to education and professional development. She has served in academic roles at Northern Illinois University, where she facilitated workshops, advised students, and helped design graduate internship programs. In these roles, she blends strategic insight with hands-on expertise, equipping individuals with the tools they need to navigate evolving career landscapes. Her ability to bridge academic instruction with real-world application has made her a valued mentor and educator.

She encourages them to learn from those examples while developing their own unique strengths and leadership style. According to Ramona, success comes from observation, adaptability, and authenticity, combined with a commitment to continuous learning and personal growth.
