

INSPYR Solutions Launches INSPYR Velocity, Accelerating Business Outcomes Through the Power of AI

FORT LAUDERDALE, FL, UNITED STATES, June 23, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- INSPYR Solutions, a leading expert in technology and talent solutions, announced the launch of INSPYR Velocity, a comprehensive AI acceleration offering designed to help organizations rapidly identify, prioritize, implement, and scale technology initiatives that drive measurable business value.

As organizations race to capitalize on the promise of AI, many struggle to move beyond experimentation due to competing priorities, limited internal expertise, governance concerns, and uncertainty around return on investment. INSPYR Velocity addresses these challenges through an agentic AI framework that combines deep technical expertise and proven delivery methodologies to reduce time-to-market, improve quality, and lower operational costs.

"While leaders understand the transformative potential of AI, many are still searching for the right path forward for their organizations," commented Trent Beekman, CEO of INSPYR Solutions. "We created INSPYR Velocity to help you accelerate your AI journey with confidence by identifying high-impact opportunities, establishing governance and readiness, and delivering practical solutions that generate real business outcomes."

"AI is moving faster than most organizations can operationalize it. INSPYR Velocity helps clients cut through complexity, prioritize high-impact opportunities, and accelerate progress from experimentation to measurable business outcomes. We've built the expertise, frameworks, and delivery capabilities needed to help clients adopt AI with confidence, and we're seeing those investments translate into meaningful results," said John Agnitsch, SVP, AI & Solution Engineering at INSPYR Solutions.

INSPYR Velocity, accelerating business outcomes through the power of AI.

INSPYR Velocity provides organizations with:

- AI-accelerated software delivery
- AI data readiness
- Enterprise conversational AI rollout and adoption
- Responsible AI and governance

The offering is designed to support organizations at every stage of AI maturity, from initial strategy and opportunity assessment to implementation, enablement, and ongoing optimization. As enterprises continue to navigate rapid technological change, INSPYR Velocity provides a practical and scalable approach for transforming AI ambition into measurable business impact.
