CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, June 23, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The first-ever MoLoKo Ukrainian Festival comes to Chicago this weekend, June 27-28, 2026. It is a two-day outdoor celebration of Ukrainian music, food, and culture, and also a chance to show support for Ukraine as the country continues its fight for freedom.

The Ukrainian National Women's League of America (UNWLA) will be there, alongside several other leading nonprofits working to help Ukraine.

UNWLA's focus is its current campaign to raise funds and awareness for the urgent need for medical supplies in Ukrainian hospitals treating badly wounded soldiers and civilians. With the need for trauma care and rehabilitation only growing, UNWLA welcomes the opportunity to reach a growing number of Ukraine supporters at the festival.

"Every dollar we raise at events like this goes straight to the people who gave everything defending Ukraine, and to the civilians caught in this war," said Galyna Nazarkevych, President of UNWLA Chicago Regional Council. "MoLoKo creates an opportunity to meet our community in Chicago and invite them to support our ongoing campaign and join the many other nationwide initiatives launched by UNWLA."

Festival attendees can stop by the UNWLA booth to learn more about the Medical Aid program, make a donation, or talk with UNWLA members about the organization's century of work supporting Ukraine.
