

Flntegrate Technology & OMNICODEMANDER Partner to Help Financial Institutions Strengthen Growth & Operational Performance

Industry veterans unite to give FIs greater access to OMNICODEMANDER's digital ecosystem & Flntegrate's collections, recovery, dispute, data migration solutions

BIRMINGHAM, AL, AL, UNITED STATES, June 23, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Flntegrate Technology, a leading provider of collections, recovery, and dispute management software for financial institutions, and award-winning digital marketing and website solutions provider OMNICODEMANDER, today announced a new partnership to help financial institutions grow, compete, and operate more efficiently.

Through the strategic partnership, clients of both companies gain expanded access to capabilities that address the full arc of financial institution performance. OMNICODEMANDER helps banks and credit unions take control of their digital presence with customized digital solutions designed to strengthen engagement, improve visibility, and support sustainable growth. Flntegrate Technology provides the operational technology institutions need to streamline collections and recovery, improve dispute management, and securely convert legacy data.

Together, the companies will give financial institutions greater access to digital growth strategies and operational solutions that support the entire user journey. From attracting and engaging users online to managing delinquent accounts, disputes, and recovery processes, the partnership connects two critical areas of financial institution performance.

"Financial institutions don't need more vendors; they need partners that can help them grow and operate more efficiently," said Eric Isham, Founder and CEO of OMNICOOMMANDER. "OMNICOOMMANDER helps banks and credit unions strengthen their digital presence and drive growth, while Flntegrate helps them improve operational performance behind the scenes. Together, we're helping financial institutions compete more effectively in a rapidly changing market."

OMNICOOMMANDER serves more than 600 banks and credit unions across the United States, providing one partner for the creation, hosting, management, and continued growth of a financial institution's digital presence. Its integrated ecosystem includes fully customized websites, digital branch solutions, live chat, digital forms, appointment scheduling, vehicle search, digital displays, search engine optimization, paid media, email marketing, social media management, content development, graphic design, and video production.

"This partnership is a natural fit for both organizations," said Kris Bishop, CEO of Flntegrate Technology. "We have spent decades helping financial institutions recover revenue, manage risk, and improve operational efficiency. OMNICOOMMANDER helps those same institutions strengthen their brands, reach more accountholders, and create better digital experiences. By bringing these capabilities together, we can help banks and credit unions compete more effectively while building stronger and more efficient operations."

Trusted by more than 150 financial institutions, Flntegrate Technology provides specialized software for collections and recovery, dispute management, and data migration. Through its FusionCRS, FusionDMS, and FusionLRS platforms, Flntegrate helps banks and credit unions automate complex workflows, reduce manual processes, control costs, and improve recovery outcomes.

The partnership reflects both companies' commitment to helping community banks and credit unions remain competitive as financial services become increasingly digital and operational efficiency becomes more important. Collectively, Flntegrate Technology and OMNICOOMMANDER serve hundreds of financial institutions and bring decades of industry experience to the partnership.
