We created CruiseHuddle to give cruisers a dedicated platform where they can discover sailings, meet fellow passengers, coordinate activities, and build lasting friendships—all in one place.”

As the cruise industry continues to experience record demand and passenger growth, CruiseHuddle is addressing a growing need for travelers to connect with others sharing the same ships, itineraries, and travel interests.

"Cruise travel is one of the most social forms of vacation, yet travelers have historically relied on fragmented Facebook groups and forums to connect," said Jay

Kuberski, Co-Founder of CruiseHuddle. "We created CruiseHuddle to give cruisers a dedicated platform where they can discover sailings, meet fellow passengers, coordinate activities, and build lasting friendships—all in one place."

A Social Network Designed Specifically for Cruisers

Key features include:

- Real-time messaging between verified members

- Pre-cruise planning and post-cruise community engagement

The platform supports travelers across all major cruise lines and destinations, including the Caribbean, Alaska, Europe, Mexico, Australia, and Asia.
