

Sabino Recovery and The Dorm Co-Host a Free CE Event on Deep Brain Reorienting and Relational Trauma

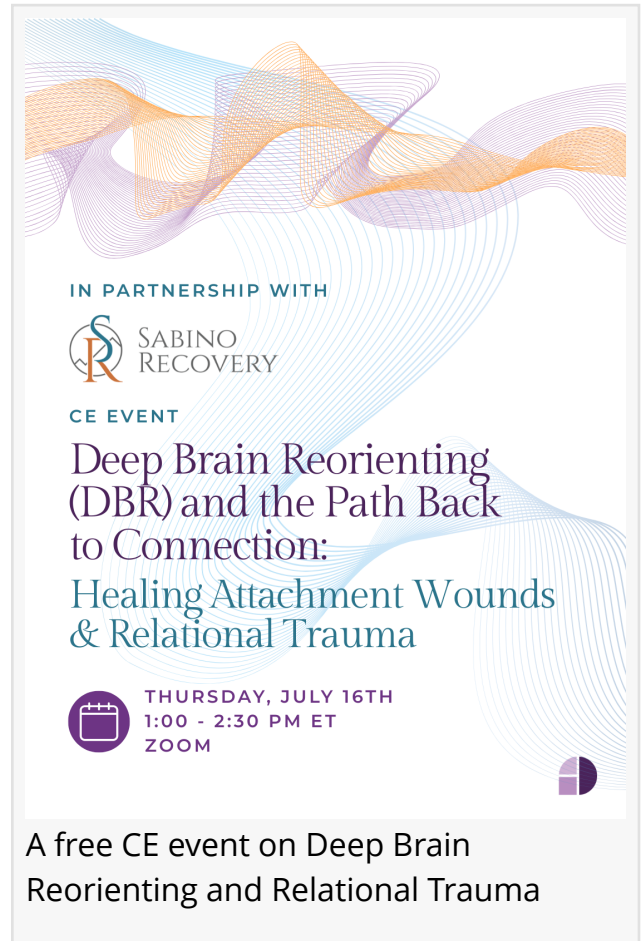

This virtual workshop offers 1.5 CE credits and explores neuroscience-informed approaches to healing attachment wounds

TUSCON, AZ, UNITED STATES, June 23, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Sabino Recovery, a trauma-first residential treatment center in Tucson, Arizona, and The Dorm, a young adult mental health treatment community with locations in New York City, NY and Washington, D.C., will co-host a free continuing education event on Thursday, July 16, 2026, from 1:00 to 2:30 PM ET via Zoom.

The workshop, titled Deep Brain Reorienting \(DBR\) and the Path Back to Connection: Healing Attachment Wounds & Relational Trauma, offers an integrated perspective, bridging established attachment theory with neuroscience-informed interventions that target the deep brain—the subcortical engine of safety, regulation, and connection. We'll move beyond talk therapy and develop a richer understanding of how deep-brain processes influence attachment formation, regulation, and repair. Participants will earn 1.5 free CE credits.

The session will be presented by Susan Love, LPC, Clinical Director at Sabino Recovery, and Dr. Amanda Fialk, LCSW, LICSW, Partner and Chief Clinical Officer at The Dorm. Together, they will explore how traditional cognitive and behavioral approaches to trauma treatment often fall short by emphasizing cognitive and behavioral strategies while overlooking the body's implicit, neurobiological memory of relational trauma.

We'll analyze key principles of attachment theory, identify the basic neurobiology of the deep brain and the subcortical structures impacted when attachment wounding occurs, and examine

The poster features abstract wavy lines in orange and purple at the top. Below this, it says "IN PARTNERSHIP WITH" followed by the Sabino Recovery logo (a stylized 'S' and 'R' in a circle) and the text "SABINO RECOVERY". Underneath is "CE EVENT" in blue. The main title "Deep Brain Reorienting (DBR) and the Path Back to Connection: Healing Attachment Wounds & Relational Trauma" is in a mix of purple and blue. At the bottom left is a purple calendar icon, and to its right is the date and time "THURSDAY, JULY 16TH 1:00 - 2:30 PM ET ZOOM". A small purple square icon is in the bottom right corner. A grey box at the bottom contains the text "A free CE event on Deep Brain Reorienting and Relational Trauma".

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH

 SABINO RECOVERY

CE EVENT

Deep Brain Reorienting (DBR) and the Path Back to Connection: Healing Attachment Wounds & Relational Trauma

 THURSDAY, JULY 16TH
1:00 - 2:30 PM ET
ZOOM

A free CE event on Deep Brain Reorienting and Relational Trauma

how the Safe and Sound Protocol and Deep Brain Reorienting facilitate healing of attachment wounds.

As a live-only event, the webinar will not be recorded. However, clinicians who register will have access to an exclusive recorded Q&A with Susan Love discussing Deep Brain Reorienting in greater depth. To receive access to the recording, attendees are encouraged to register at the link below.

Registration is free and open to behavioral health professionals, including Psychologists, Social Workers, Counselors, and MFT's. Space is limited.

Register at: <https://the-dorm.ce-go.com/deep-brain-reorienting>

About Sabino Recovery

Sabino Recovery is a premier trauma-first residential treatment center, rooted in a serene 140-acre desert retreat and driven by deep clinical expertise. We provide 35-90 day truly individualized, trauma-informed care for clients struggling with mental health and addiction challenges. Our integrative, trauma-informed therapies help clients access long-term healing—not just from symptoms, but from the root causes beneath them. Learn more at sabinorecovery.com.

About The Dorm

The Dorm is a mission-driven mental health treatment organization that has been empowering young adults to build lives of sustained independence since 2009. With locations in New York City and Washington, D.C., they offer individualized, flexible, and community-centered intensive outpatient care for a clinically diverse population (ages 18–30). Proudly family-owned and operated, The Dorm has redefined how care looks and feels. Today, 87% of their alumni are either gainfully employed or enrolled full-time in school, living their dreams and thriving.

Derek Gwaltney

Sabino Recovery

email us here

Visit us on social media:

LinkedIn

Instagram

Facebook

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/921621238>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2026 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.