

SMART Wealth, LLC, a Subsidiary of Retire SMART Holdings Inc., Announces the Launch of Two Publicly Traded ETFs

OMAHA, NE, UNITED STATES, June 24, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SMART Wealth, LLC, a subsidiary of Retire SMART Holdings Inc., is pleased to announce the launch of its publicly traded Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs), branded as "SMARTWAYETFs." These include SMART Earnings Growth 30 and SMART Trend 25, now trading under ticker symbols SGRT and STRN on the New York Stock Exchange. The ETFs are large-cap growth models featuring distinctive active management strategies and are benchmarked against the S&P 500 index.

"We view this launch as an exciting opportunity to connect with a broader audience," said David Brooks, CEO of Retire SMART. "The introduction of these ETFs allows us to extend our portfolio offerings to individuals with smaller investment accounts who previously might not have been able to access our expertise. We welcome the public to consider these investment options within our innovative portfolios."

Additionally, ETFs may offer certain tax advantages, such as deferring capital gains taxes until shares are sold, which can potentially enhance after-tax returns. However, investors should be aware that all investments carry risks, including market risk, which may impact returns.

This launch marks a significant milestone for SMART Wealth, LLC, and Retire SMART Holdings Inc., reinforcing our commitment to providing investment solutions designed to meet diverse investor needs. Investors are encouraged to closely monitor their investments and seek advice from financial professionals in light of their individual circumstances.
