Recognising Progress Across Financial Technology

The achievements recognised in the 2026 Fintech Awards reflect a sector shaped by both innovation and responsibility. Financial technology businesses are increasingly required to deliver solutions that are not only technically capable, but also trustworthy, scalable, and aligned with the needs of customers, institutions, and regulators.

Across the awards, the recognised businesses demonstrate the value of clear strategy, specialist knowledge, and practical execution. Their work spans areas that are central to the future of fintech, including member engagement, payment infrastructure, regulatory reporting, data standards, cross-border growth, and advisory support for businesses navigating critical moments.

Altaris Business Awards congratulates all winners and finalists of the 2026 Fintech Awards. Their achievements reflect the continued strength and relevance of fintech as a sector built on problem-solving, adaptability, and credible innovation.
