it we were told that there was no way to properly set the countertops. Within minutes of Carlton arriving on site, he assured us that there would be no issue with getting the countertops set properly. During the entire process there was phenomenal communication, reassurance, and professionalism. I am beyond happy that I gave a call to Legacy. It is because of then that we have a finished kitchen, and our house can finally begin to feel more like home."

"After our previous contractor failed to install our countertops properly, this company stepped in and completely turned things around. They were professional, efficient, and clearly knew what they were doing. Even though the sink hole had been cut in the wrong spot, they were able to adjust it and make it work by carefully cutting it to fit a larger sink. The final result looks great, and you would never know there had been an issue before. We're very grateful for their skill and willingness to fix a difficult situation. Highly recommend!"
