

NAGAOKA Launches the “SBR01” Stylus Cleaning Brush to Protect Record Stylus

TOKYO, JAPAN, June 25, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- NAGAOKA will release the “SBR01” stylus cleaning brush under its “NAGAOKA” brand—which specializes in record stylus and record accessories—at electronics retailers, audio and record stores, and online retailers nationwide starting June 19, 2026.

□Product Overview

This product features an anti-static brush designed specifically for record stylus, making it ideal for the daily maintenance of record cartridges.

□Product Features

L-shaped body for superior handling
Features a unique L-shape designed specifically for record stylus. Compared to conventional brushes, it provides a more stable grip, making it easier to use and ensuring precise removal of dust from the stylus tip.

Anti-static Brush Bristles

Static electricity generated during record playback is the primary cause of dust being attracted to the stylus tip. The brush bristles on this product have undergone an anti-static treatment to suppress static electricity and prevent removed dust from reattaching.

Special Tip Treatment Gentle on Stylus Tips

Our proprietary special treatment applied to the tips of the brush bristles allows for the precise removal of fine debris without damaging delicate stylus tips.
