"What stood out most this year was how designers are increasingly creating work that goes beyond visual appeal alone," said Thomas Brandt, spokesperson of IAA. "Behind every recognised entry is a clear understanding of both creativity and purpose, and the London Design Awards is proud to honour the designers, studios, brands, and teams whose achievements continue to influence the global design industry."

International Jury Evaluation

All submissions were evaluated through a blind judging process by an international panel of over 30 design professionals, creative specialists, and industry experts. Entries were assessed based on originality, conceptual development, execution, functionality, usability, and overall creative effectiveness within their intended purpose and audience.

Following the announcement of the 2026 winners, the London Design Awards has also opened submissions for Season 2, welcoming entries from designers, agencies, brands, creative studios, and organisations worldwide across its multidisciplinary categories.

The Early Bird Deadline is scheduled for 24 July 2026, reintroducing the lowest entry rates of the competition, with entries continued to be accepted until the Final Extension Deadline on 6 November 2026. Official results are scheduled to be announced on 18 December 2026.
