DALLAS, TX, UNITED STATES, June 29, 2026
/EINPresswire.com/ -- FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

-Geneva Martin Releases Memoir "Surrendered in Silence: The God Who Stayed"* and Companion Song "You Stayed"-

Geneva Martin announces the release of her memoir, "Surrendered in Silence: The God Who Stayed", alongside the original companion song, "You Stayed", a musical reflection inspired by the book's themes of faith, surrender, healing, and restoration.

More than a memoir, "Surrendered in Silence" chronicles Martin's personal journey through trauma, caregiving, leadership pressure, burnout, grief, and the lifelong pursuit of strength. Through deeply personal storytelling and spiritual reflection, the memoir explores what happens when survival becomes an identity -and surrender becomes the pathway to healing.

"Many of the strongest people you know are not thriving—they're surviving," Martin says. "This book was born from my own journey of learning that healing is not weakness, surrender is not failure, and that God often meets us in the very places we try hardest to hide. My hope is that readers discover they do not have to suffer in silence."

Drawing from decades of leadership experience across enterprise governance, strategic planning, organizational transformation, compliance, technology, financial services, AI and data governance, and executive leadership, Martin brings a unique perspective to conversations surrounding resilience, identity, emotional well-being, and sustainable leadership.

Released alongside the memoir, "You Stayed" extends the message beyond the written page. Inspired by the book's central theme of God's faithfulness through life's most difficult seasons, the song offers listeners a reminder that even in moments of uncertainty, grief, and struggle, they are not alone.

"This was never meant to be just a book," Martin explains. "It became a message—one expressed through writing, reflection, faith, leadership, and music."

The release comes during a season of growing visibility for Martin and The JITT Group, the leadership and transformation organization she co-founded with her daughter, Somaej Boykins. Together, they provide executive advisory services, leadership development, neuroscience-informed growth, resilience training, and transformation programs designed to help individuals and organizations navigate change with greater clarity, purpose, and intentional leadership.
