

ArcStone Achieves Women-Owned Small Business (WOSB) Certification

ArcStone has achieved WOSB certification, expanding federal contracting opportunities for its web, accessibility, and digital marketing services.

MINNEAPOLIS, MN, UNITED STATES, June 30, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- ArcStone, a web design and digital marketing agency specializing in nonprofit, purpose-driven, and government clients, announced it has received official Women-Owned Small Business \(WOSB\) certification through the U.S. Small Business Administration. The certification adds to ArcStone's existing B Corp designation, further underscoring the agency's commitment to accountability, equity, and social impact.

We've always held ourselves to a high standard of accountability. This WOSB certification builds on that and creates new pathways to bring our mission-driven approach to more government partners.”

Lisa Hirst Carnes

The WOSB certification opens eligibility for federal set-aside contracts designated for women-owned businesses, strengthening ArcStone's ability to serve government agencies alongside its existing public sector client base.

ArcStone works with nonprofits, government agencies, and purpose-driven organizations across the United States, delivering services including web development, SEO and AI visibility, accessibility compliance, managed hosting and digital marketing.
