Built for players who demand power, spin, and customization, the Airbender 10 features a Toray T700 Raw Carbon Fiber face, an open-throat aerodynamic design for faster swing speed, and the ability to customize GAMMA's proprietary Zorbicon™ Shockbuster technology inserts and a variable end cap weighting system to fine tune balance and swing weight.

This recognition means a lot because it came directly from the players. This really is the ‘people’s paddle’ because it was designed to adapt to the player, not the other way around.”
