SALT LAKE CITY, UT, UNITED STATES, July 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Salt Lake City, UT, June 30, 2026 — Holdings, the AI-native business banking platform, today announced the launch of invoicing and QR code payment links, completing a full-stack financial platform that gives small businesses everything they need to get paid and stay organized — banking, bookkeeping, invoicing, and payment acceptance in one place.

Invoices, Quotes & Payment Links

Bill clients, win the work, and get paid — in one place.

Holdings now offers free invoicing, quotes, and QR code payment links — all connected to business banking and bookkeeping in one account.

The new features eliminate the need for separate invoicing tools or payment processors. Business owners can create a professional invoice, send it with an embedded payment link so clients can pay by card or ACH, and have the payment recorded automatically in their books — no reconciling, no separate accounting entry required. For in-person or on-demand payments, businesses can generate a shareable payment page and QR code customers can scan to pay.

You send the invoice, your client pays, and it's already in your books. That's what this should feel like.”

Jason Garcia, CEO, Holdings

“Small businesses shouldn't need four different tools just to send an invoice and keep their books straight,” said

Jason Garcia, CEO of Holdings. “We built invoicing and payment links to connect directly to your bank account and bookkeeping. You send the invoice, your client pays, and it's already done. That's what this should feel like.”

Invoicing Connected to Banking and Bookkeeping

Holdings' invoicing lets businesses create and send professional invoices in minutes. Quotes convert to invoices in one click. Each invoice includes a payment link so clients can pay online by card or ACH, and recurring invoices can be set up for ongoing clients. When a client pays, the invoice marks paid and the transaction posts to the company's books automatically.

Invoicing is free with a Holdings account. Businesses on the $25/month Software plan get custom branding on their invoices and payment pages.
