The company achieved its highest placement to date, ranking #300 in the United States, marking a record result in its history.

RealTrends, the residential real estate industry's leading consulting and research firm, releases its annual Verified Brokerage Rankings as the definitive measure of brokerage performance and production nationwide.

"Our goal has never been to be the largest real estate company in the country. From the beginning, our focus has been to build the best team in Maine, agents who bring genuine expertise, sound advice, and an exceptional level of service our clients can rely on. This ranking is a reflection of that commitment," said Chris Lynch, President of Legacy Properties Sotheby's International Realty.

The report ranks the nation's top brokerages based on verified production standards, with inclusion requiring significant performance thresholds across transaction sides and sales volume. Legacy Properties Sotheby's International Realty remains one of the leading Maine-based firms recognized in the national rankings.

“This achievement belongs to our agents, our staff, and the clients who have trusted us with some of the most consequential decisions of their lives,” added Lynch. “That trust is not something we take for granted. It is what drives us across every community we serve.”
