

Schuman Homes Expands Custom Home Building Across Savannah and St. Simons Island, GA

The Savannah builder now serves The Landings, South Harbor, Southbridge, Savannah Quarters, Richmond Hill, and St. Simons Island with real-time build updates.

SAVANNAH , GA, UNITED STATES, July 3, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Schuman Homes, LLC, a custom home builder based in Savannah, Georgia, today announced its continued expansion across southeast Georgia's most desirable communities, along with a newly established presence on St. Simons Island. For homeowners searching for a custom home builder in Savannah, The Landings, South Harbor, Southbridge, Savannah Quarters, Richmond Hill, or St. Simons Island, Schuman Homes offers local expertise backed by a modern, transparent building process.

Schuman Homes builds custom homes throughout southeast Georgia, with an established presence in some of the region's premier residential communities, including:

The Landings — custom homes in one of Savannah's most established gated communities

South Harbor — custom home building in this growing Chatham County waterfront-area community

Southbridge — golf-course community custom homes near Savannah

Savannah Quarters — custom homes in this master-planned Savannah community

Richmond Hill, GA — custom home builder serving the Richmond Hill market

St. Simons Island, GA — Schuman Homes' newest market, bringing custom coastal home building to the Golden Isles

This expansion means homeowners across southeast Georgia and coastal Georgia now have a single trusted custom home builder to call for new construction, from Savannah's inland communities to the barrier islands.

"Growing into St. Simons was about meeting our clients where they already wanted to build," said Stephen Schuman, Owner of Schuman Homes. "We're not changing what we do — we're just bringing the same standard of craftsmanship to a new part of the coast."

A key part of Schuman Homes' approach is its commitment to transparency throughout the home building process. Using the JobTread construction management platform, clients receive daily build updates, progress photos, and drone video footage of their home under construction

— a feature especially valued by homeowners who are building a custom home locally in Savannah or coastal Georgia while living out of town. The company also provides an in-house selection specialist, who works directly with homeowners to manage design choices and material selections throughout the build, helping keep the custom home building process on schedule and stress-free from start to finish.

“A lot of our clients are building from out of town, so we made sure they never feel disconnected from the process,” said Schuman. “Between JobTread updates and our in-house selection specialist, they can watch their home come together in real time, no matter where they are.”
