Aurora homeowners deserve plumbing services that are fast, affordable, and dependable. We're committed to delivering quality workmanship with every job.”

The expanded service is designed to address one of the most common frustrations Aurora residents face during a plumbing emergency: long wait times and unpredictable costs. As trusted plumbers in Aurora, CO, the Grig Plumbing team now offers same-day scheduling and clear, upfront quotes before any work begins — covering everything from burst pipes and clogged drains to one of the area's most requested services: water heater installation and repair.

Plumbing problems never happen at a convenient time, and the last thing a homeowner needs is to wait days for help or get surprised by a bill at the end,” said Karapet, owner of Grig Plumbing. “Whether it's a failing water heater on a freezing morning or a hidden leak, our goal is simple — show up fast, fix it right, and be upfront about the cost from the start.”

Water Heater Installation and Repair

With Colorado's cold winters putting extra strain on home water heaters, Grig Plumbing has made water heater installation and water heater repair a core focus of its services. The company's licensed plumbers install and service both traditional tank and modern tankless systems, helping Aurora homeowners restore hot water quickly while improving energy efficiency and long-term reliability. Whether a unit needs a quick repair or a full replacement, customers receive an honest assessment and a clear quote before any work begins.

Beyond water heaters, Grig Plumbing's services include emergency repairs, drain cleaning, leak detection, fixture installation, and routine maintenance for both residential and commercial properties. Every job is handled by licensed, experienced plumbers familiar with the specific challenges of Colorado homes, including freeze-related pipe damage during the winter months.

The company is also committed to keeping pricing accessible, offering free estimates and honest recommendations rather than upselling unnecessary work — an approach that has earned Grig Plumbing strong reviews from local customers.

Aurora homeowners and businesses can schedule service or request a free estimate by calling (983) 218-4929 or visiting grigplumb.com.
