Insurance School of Tampa Bay Announces Approval of New Continuing Education Course NAVIGATING MYFLORIDACFO.COM

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, July 5, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Insurance School of Tampa Bay Announces New Four (4) Hour Continuing Education Course: NAVIGATING MYFLORIDACFO.COM — A GUIDE TO THE FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF FINANCIAL SERVICES

The Insurance School of Tampa Bay is pleased to announce a new continuing education course designed to help insurance professionals efficiently navigate Florida's regulatory landscape. NAVIGATING MYFLORIDACFO: A GUIDE TO THE FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF FINANCIAL SERVICES equips agents, independent adjusters, agency staff, and compliance professionals with practical, real-world skills for locating statutes, rules, forms, and consumer resources on MyFloridaCFO.com and FLOIR.gov.

For the last 20 years, I have taught Real Estate and Insurance in 19 jurisdictions, and I can say that the Florida Department of Financial Services website, myfloridacfo.com, is among the best.”

Christopher Kazor , Chief Academic Officer

Fulfilling a need. One reason we developed this course was to reduce the number of daily calls from former students seeking information on compliance, filing forms, and other general Florida insurance-industry questions. Previously, alumni asked how to obtain CE extensions, how to start or close an agency, how to designate or change the "designated agent in charge," and more. Now we can direct them to our class, which shows where all the resources are located. The MyFloridaCFO site and related pages answer the questions an agent, adjuster, or support staff may have, and they provide easy access to information and, in many cases, downloadable forms.
