

H Mart Recognized on Newsweek's "America's Greatest Workplaces for Entry Level 2026"

H Mart recognized by Newsweek's America's Greatest Workplaces for Entry Level 2026, highlighting commitment to developing and supporting early-career talent.

LYNDHURST, NJ, UNITED STATES, July 6, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- H Mart, the largest Asian supermarket chain in the United States, is proud to announce its recognition on Newsweek's "America's Greatest Workplaces for Entry Level 2026," highlighting the company's continued commitment to supporting and developing early-career talent across its organization.

H Mart selected for Newsweek's "America's Greatest Workplaces 2026."

This recognition is based on a nationwide study conducted by Plant-A Insights Group, which analyzed interviews from more than 113,000 entry-level employees across the United States. The study also included extensive desk research evaluating key workplace indicators such as professional development opportunities, training quality, and overall employee experience for individuals aged 18–28.

The ranking reflects organizations that demonstrate strong performance in creating supportive environments for entry-level employees, with a focus on career growth, skill development, and workplace engagement.

H Mart stated, "We are honored to be recognized by Newsweek as one of America's Greatest Workplaces for Entry-Level Employees. Our entry-level associates bring energy and fresh perspective to the company, and we are committed to investing in their development and long-term success."

Also added, "As a leading Asian supermarket retailer in the United States, we continue to expand nationwide while prioritizing employee development and fostering a workplace culture that supports career growth at every stage."
