

Media Mister Launches Facebook Growth Service with One-Time and Monthly Subscription Plans

The social media growth provider brings its growth service to Facebook, helping users build engagement, stronger page visibility, and steady follower growth.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, July 7, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Media Mister has announced the launch of its new Facebook growth service, available in both one-time and monthly subscription plans. The company already offers similar growth services for Instagram, TikTok, and YouTube. With this launch, it now brings the same structured approach to Facebook, one of the largest social media platforms in the world.

Media Mister Facebook Growth Service

Today, many creators and businesses find it hard to grow on Facebook. Organic reach has dropped, and the Facebook algorithm now rewards pages that get regular engagement -likes, comments, shares, and new followers - on their recent posts. A single spike in activity is no longer enough. Pages need steady, ongoing engagement to stay visible in the news feed and reach new audiences.

Media Mister's new service is built for this. Instead of focusing on one metric at a time, it combines Facebook followers, post likes, comments, and shares into one complete growth plan. The engagement is delivered slowly and naturally across a page's most recent posts, which helps the account grow in a safe and steady way. Users can choose a one-time delivery for a quick boost or a monthly plan for ongoing, hands-free growth.

"Standing out on Facebook today takes more than a one-time boost - it takes steady, balanced engagement on every post," said John Rampton, co-founder of Media Mister. "Creators and businesses are moving away from short-term tricks and toward long-term growth planning. This launch supports that shift."

The launch also points to a bigger change in the social media growth industry. More users now prefer subscription-based growth plans over single purchases, because consistent engagement builds social proof, improves engagement rate, and supports long-term audience growth. For businesses, brand pages, and public figures, growing a Facebook page is becoming a regular part of their marketing plan, not a one-time campaign.

Founded in 2012, Media Mister has delivered over 600K+ orders across 190+ countries. The platform supports social media growth on more than 70 platforms and focuses on real engagement, gradual delivery, and account safety. Users never need to share their login details - only their Facebook page or profile URL.
