

Frechal Terrace by Thiago Mondini Wins Bronze in A' Interior Design Awards

Residential Building Interiors Conceived as a Small City Receives International Recognition for Spatial Innovation

COMO, CO, ITALY, July 7, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award has announced Frechal Terrace by Thiago Mondini as a Bronze winner in the Interior Space and Exhibition Design category. The A' Interior Space, Retail and Exhibition Design Award is a highly respected competition that promotes excellence and innovation within the interior design industry. This recognition acknowledges Frechal Terrace as an outstanding example of thoughtful and well-executed design among a competitive field of international entries. Selection for the Bronze A' Design Award follows a rigorous evaluation conducted by a panel of design professionals, industry experts, and academics. The distinction positions Frechal Terrace as a notable contribution to contemporary residential interior design.

The recognition of Frechal Terrace holds relevance for the broader interior design community and for residents seeking enriched living environments. The project responds to a growing interest in shared residential spaces that extend beyond conventional functions, offering varied experiences within a single building. By introducing differentiated areas that function as urban destinations, the design aligns with current trends emphasizing discovery, social interaction, and well-being. The approach demonstrates how everyday circulation can be transformed into a more engaging spatial journey. For developers, architects, and residents, the project illustrates practical methods for adding value through diversity of atmosphere.

Frechal Terrace comprises a set of shared spaces within a residential building, each intentionally designed to feel distinct from the others. The concept treats the building almost like a small city, where moving between areas becomes a journey of discovery rather than a repetition of similar rooms. Two main color palettes guide the experience, with terracotta applied to inviting spaces such as the main foyer and reception room, and gray reserved for more intimate settings. Among these, the wine bar resembles a geometric cave, while the game room offers a quieter retreat. The project introduces environments that rarely exist within conventional homes, expanding the range of activities available to residents.

This recognition through the Bronze A' Design Award may serve as encouragement for Thiago Mondini to continue exploring spatial concepts that enrich daily life. The honor reinforces a commitment to highly personalized design and may inspire future projects that challenge conventional approaches to shared residential environments. By demonstrating creativity within the limits of an existing project, the work highlights the value of inventive problem solving. The recognition stands as motivation for continued pursuit of excellence and thoughtful innovation.
