announce that it has been awarded a $15,000 grant from the Bishop-Parker Foundation to enhance its Dental Health Program through the implementation of a Results First evaluation framework.

Through a series of workshops and coaching sessions led by Robyn Faucy, CEO of Results 1st, MCR Health will enhance its capacity to define success, track progress, and promote continuous learning and improvement across its dental health program.

“We are incredibly honored that the Bishop-Parker Foundation has invested in this important capacity building initiative”, said Dr. Melvin Price, President and CEO of MCR Health.

Thanks to an award received earlier in May from the James Franklin Warnell & Dorothy J. Warnell Fund of the Community Foundation of Sarasota County, MCR Health’s Maternal Mental Health, Youth Obesity and Care Coordination programs will also participate in the Results First initiative, allowing us to implement a unified, data-driven approach to care delivery across multiple programs. “Our region is truly fortunate to benefit from the generosity of our local foundations and their donors who work together to help drive meaningful impact in the communities we serve. MCR Health is deeply grateful for their continued support and partnership,” added Dr. Price.
