

Boise Siding Highlights the Importance of Qualified Fiber Cement Siding Installation for Idaho Homeowners

James Hardie Elite Preferred Contractor designation helps educate homeowners why choosing the right installer is just as important as choosing the right siding.

ID, UNITED STATES, July 7, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- BOISE, Idaho — As homeowners across the Treasure Valley continue investing in exterior remodeling and durable siding materials, Boise Siding is encouraging property owners to look beyond product selection and carefully evaluate the qualifications of the contractor performing the installation.

Boise Siding, a locally owned exterior remodeling company serving communities throughout southwest Idaho, is highlighting its status as a James Hardie Elite Preferred Contractor while educating homeowners about why professional installation is a critical factor in the long-term performance of fiber cement siding.

Fiber cement siding has become one of the most popular exterior cladding options because of its durability, appearance, and resistance to weather. However, even high-quality materials can underperform when they are not installed according to manufacturer specifications.

The James Hardie Elite Preferred Contractor designation is awarded to contractors who meet specific standards established by James Hardie, including professional installation experience, ongoing training, proper licensing and insurance requirements, and a demonstrated commitment to customer satisfaction. Contractors must continue meeting these standards to maintain the designation.

For homeowners planning an exterior renovation, Boise Siding recommends asking prospective contractors about their manufacturer training, installation experience, warranty knowledge, and familiarity with the products being installed—not just the siding products themselves.

"We work with high-quality manufacturers such as James Hardie because we believe homeowners deserve products that are built to last," said Scott Curtis of Boise Siding. "We're experts in our field and can help homeowners find the best siding option for their home and budget. Just as important, we make sure it's installed correctly so they get the performance they're expecting."

Demand for durable, low-maintenance siding continues to grow as homeowners look for exterior products that can withstand Idaho's changing weather conditions. Boise Siding believes helping customers understand both the products and the installation process leads to better long-term results and greater confidence when investing in exterior improvements.

In addition to fiber cement siding installation, Boise Siding provides residential and commercial exterior services throughout Boise, Meridian, Eagle, Kuna, Star, Middleton, Nampa, and Caldwell, including:

- Fiber cement siding installation and replacement
- Vinyl siding installation and repair
- LP SmartSide siding
- Soffit and fascia installation
- Exterior trim and finishing
- Professional gutter services
- Exterior painting
- Storm damage siding repair
- Rot and structural repair

"We work on both new homes and existing homes throughout the Boise area," Curtis said. "Whether someone needs help with siding, soffits, gutters, fascia, or painting, we've got them covered. Our focus is on quality workmanship, honest communication, and helping every customer find the right solution for their home."
