After over 40 years of representing injured Floridians, Darryl B. Kogan is retiring from the practice of law and passing the baton to Todd Baker, a Florida Board Certified Civil Trial Attorney, shareholder, and longtime leader within the firm. The transition honors the legacy of Kogan & DiSalvo while positioning the firm for its next generation of leadership.

Baker & DiSalvo, formerly Kogan & DiSalvo, will continue serving clients with the same values, client-first approach, and commitment to preparation, communication, and strong advocacy that have defined the firm for decades.

"This transition is about honoring the foundation we built while making sure the firm is prepared for the future," said Darryl B. Kogan. "For over 40 years, I have been proud to help injured people and families throughout Florida. Todd Baker has earned my trust, and I know he will carry this firm forward with the same preparation, care, and commitment to injured people that have guided us for decades.”

Todd Baker, who will help lead Baker & DiSalvo into its next chapter, said the transition represents both continuity and growth.

“This is not a new firm. This is the next chapter of the same trusted Florida personal injury law firm,” said Todd Baker. “Darryl Kogan built a legacy of preparation, client care, and strong advocacy. Our responsibility is to carry that legacy forward while continuing to grow, modernize, and serve injured Floridians across the state.”

Ted DiSalvo remains part of the firm’s identity, reflecting the continued legacy and foundation that helped shape Kogan & DiSalvo into a trusted Florida personal injury law firm. As Baker & DiSalvo, the firm will continue building on that history with expanded resources, modern systems, and next-generation leadership.

Current clients do not need to take any action as a result of the name transition. Baker & DiSalvo will continue operating with the same client service standards, attorneys, paralegals, support teams, office locations, phone numbers, and commitment to communication. The name is evolving, but the firm’s operations, values, and dedication to clients remain the same.

People searching for Kogan & DiSalvo, Kogan Injury Law, Kogan & DiSalvo Personal Injury Lawyers, or questions such as “What happened to Kogan & DiSalvo?” and “Is Baker & DiSalvo the same as Kogan & DiSalvo?” will continue to be connected with the same trusted Florida personal injury law firm now moving forward as Baker & DiSalvo.

Baker & DiSalvo will continue representing people injured in car accidents, truck accidents, motorcycle accidents, pedestrian accidents, bicycle accidents, slip and falls, premises liability incidents, wrongful death matters, and other personal injury cases throughout Florida.

The firm will continue serving injured clients across Florida, including Miami-Dade County, Broward County, Palm Beach County, Martin County, St. Lucie County, Okeechobee County, Indian River County, Brevard County, Osceola County, Orange County, Polk County, Hillsborough County, Pinellas County, Manatee County, Sarasota County, Lee County, Charlotte County, Collier County, and all of Florida.

The transition to Baker & DiSalvo comes during a period of continued growth for the firm. What began as a trusted Florida injury law firm built on personal service, preparation, and client care now continues with a broader team, expanded reach, and a new generation of leadership.

The shareholders of Baker & DiSalvo

For clients, referral partners, vendors, and the public, the message is simple: Baker & DiSalvo is the next chapter of Kogan & DiSalvo. The name is evolving, but the values, team, and commitment to helping injured Floridians remain the same.
