

AACD's Give Back a Smile Celebrates 27 Years; Christopher Sprout, DDS Joins Colorado Volunteers in Expanding the Program

Christopher Sprout, DDS contributes to two programs with a combined track record of restoring smiles for more than 2,000 people across the country.

DENVER, CO, UNITED STATES, July 10, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Two community dental programs with deep roots in Colorado are marking significant milestones in 2026, and Christopher Sprout, DDS has been a volunteer contributor to both.

The Metro Denver Dental Society's Smile Again program has provided more than $900,000 in cost-free dental care to qualifying residents in the Denver area, delivered through a network of volunteer dentists and specialists. The program is organized through the Metropolitan Denver Dental Foundation and connects patients with participating providers at no charge.

At the national level, the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry's Give Back a Smile program is marking its 27th year in 2026. Since launching in 1999, the program has restored the smiles of more than 2,000 people across the country, with more than $20 million in donated dental services provided by volunteer dentists and dental labs.

Christopher Sprout, DDS has contributed more than 400 hours of community service to both programs, along with other local volunteer efforts in the Denver area.

"Good dentistry should reach people who are rebuilding their lives, not only those who walk in the front door," said Christopher Sprout, DDS. "These programs give people access to care that can genuinely change how they move through the world."
